

MAINELY POTTERY IS FOR SALE

The new owners should love being surrounded by wonderful Maine made pottery. The 28 Maine potters whose work is showcased at Mainely Pottery offers a diverse selection of style, color and design making it a destination stop for both locals and vacationing tourists.

Asking $425,000 for 2 buildings and the business on 3 acres. Property includes 330 feet of commercial frontage on Route One in Belfast, Maine. There are two buildings; a 1400 sq. ft , fully equipped studio with a walk out basement and a gallery building. The 1600 sq. ft. gallery is a salt box design with south facing windows providing lots of natural light. The south side has a deck overlooking extensive flower gardens.

The current owners are gallery manager, Jeannette Faunce, and her husband, Jamie Oates, resident potter. We have grown the business steadily since 1988. For more information, email us at info@mainelypottery.com; 207-338-1108.
